Friday, April 14, 2023, 8:30 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Experience all that Wheaton College has to offer, or at least as much as you can pack into one day. Learn about the many opportunities for collaboration, creativity, global study, innovation, entrepreneurship, activism and leadership. Hear from faculty who teach the subjects that interest you and students majoring in those areas. Take a closer look at our residence halls, labs, studios, dining locations and more. See how Wheaton can help you find your voice, hone your skills and explore your passions. Celebrate the diversity of our community and the many ways we work together to support and engage all Wheaton students at Lyons Fest—a showcase of clubs, services, departments and programs.

#WheaCount Challenge

Admitted and enrolled students can test their intuition by guessing the correct number of Wheaton M&M packages in the jar. The jar will be located in the registration area in the morning and next to the enrollment table during Lyons Fest in the afternoon. The student who comes closest to the correct number (without going over) will win a Wheaton sweatshirt!

#WheaSaidYes!

Look out for our photo station. We will have a station set up during registration with props and a photographer so you can take pictures commemorating your official welcome to the Wheaton family! You may even get to snag a photo with our mascot—Roary the Lyon! Get serious, get silly, and get a picture to commemorate this wonderful beginning of a new chapter of your life. Feel free to post pictures to social media with the hashtags #WheaSaidYes, #LetsGoWheat and #WheatonMA.

disciplines through our concentrations. We offer six areas of concentration, with the most popular being marketing and finance.

Mary Lyon Hall, Holman Room 14

Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Environmental Science

Discover the many ways students studying chemistry, biochemistry and environmental science gain real-world skills through summer internships and on- and off-campus research gigs, and hear about recent graduates' experiences post-Wheaton.

Diana Davis Spencer Discovery Center,
Room 3327 23

Computer Science at Wheaton

From artificial intelligence to animation, DNA research to cyber security, and machine learning to graphics, computer science at Wheaton covers a broad waterfront. Students use makerspaces, mock startup businesses and learn how to analyze "big data." Learn how to keep pushing boundaries!

Mars Center for Science and Technology,
Room 1120 28

Education: Teaching in the 21st Century

Hear from education department faculty and students about the rewards and challenges of teaching, the education major, and the process and support available to obtain a teaching license.

Diana Davis Spencer Discovery Center,
Room 3346 23

Film and New Media Studies and Design

The film and new media studies program as well as the design program help students acquire the skills, knowledge and experiences needed to become part of the creative economy or to pursue a wide range of other professional or entrepreneurial interests. Hear how—through an emphasis on project-based learning and by integrating critical inquiry, computational thinking and creative innovation—these programs are preparing today's students to become tomorrow's content producers, makers, innovators and game-changers.

Mary Lyon Hall, Woolley Room 14

History, Languages and Cultures at Wheaton

Studying history, languages and cultures equips students with the tools to become active, informed and engaged global citizens. Get a closer look at the study of history, anthropology, languages, literatures and cultures in our curriculum, including French, Russian studies, Hispanic studies, Italian studies, Greek, Latin and more. Learn how the Global Honors option provides students with deep and meaningful engagement with the intersection of languages, cultures and structures across the globe.

Mars Arts and Humanities, Meneely 301 15

Math and Data Science

Attend a current Calculus II class that continues the study of integral calculus begun in Calculus I. In addition to the core single variable topics of techniques of integration, applications of the integral, improper integrals, and Taylor series, this course includes the multivariable topics of partial derivatives, optimization of multivariable functions and multiple integrals.

Mars Center for Science and Technology,
Room 1141 15

Nursing at Wheaton

Learn more about our exciting, new nursing program, designed to prepare graduates to begin their careers as clinical practitioners enriched by the breadth of Wheaton's liberal arts offerings. Students will tackle interconnected issues of health equity, gender and race-based disparities in health care and other modern-day challenges to patient-centered care.

Diana Davis Spencer Discovery Center,
Room 2360 23

Physics, Astronomy, Geology and Engineering at Wheaton

Explore our programs in physics, astronomy and geology, and learn about the dual-degree program in physics and engineering with Dartmouth College. Faculty will discuss the many rich opportunities to get involved in research both on and off campus and to use our state-of-the-art observatory on the roof of the Mars Center for Science and Technology.

Diana Davis Spencer Discovery Center,
Room 1343 23

Political Science, International Relations, Pre-Law, and Legal Studies

Hear faculty and students studying political science, international relations, pre-law and legal studies speak about the skills needed to think deeply, speak assertively, behave ethically, and act courageously in a political environment.

Mars Arts and Humanities, Meneely,

Wheaton Experience Sessions

These 30-minute sessions, beginning at 11:30 a.m. or 12:15 p.m., are designed to showcase the myriad resources, support networks and opportunities available to help you personalize your Wheaton experience and ensure that you are set up for success, in and out of the classroom.

11:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

The Wheaton Edge: Internships, Research, Career Outcomes, and Study Abroad

Wheaton is committed to providing students with experiences that broaden their understanding and vision beyond the borders of this campus and this country. Hear from students about Wheaton funding for internships, research and international experiences, and developing career competencies throughout your four years at Wheaton. Learn how students find a study abroad experience to complement their personal, academic and professional interests and goals.

Diana Davis Spencer Discovery Center, Hindle Auditorium ²³

11:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

Campus Leadership and Involvement

Visualize how you can make an impact on the Wheaton community. Learn about the many opportunities for student leadership and involvement on campus from a member of the Office of Student Activities, Involvement and Leadership (SAIL) and a panel of students. This session is designed to be an interactive Q&A, so you are encouraged to come prepared with any questions you would like answered from a student perspective.

Mary Lyon Hall, Holman Room ¹⁴

Double Session 11:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. and 12:15 p.m. - 12:45 p.m.

Academic Advising and Accessibility

Wheaton is committed to providing students with inclusive and holistic advising that ensures our students reach their full potential and highest goals. Stop by the Filene Center for Academic Advising and Career Services (Wheaton's hub for personal advising, accessibility services, professional mentorship and career success) to learn about the services offered and ask questions about the curriculum, MAP Day, the honors program and more.
